The image shows a development environment with a code editor on the left and a browser window on the right. The code editor displays a JavaScript array of review objects. The first object, representing Frankie Lan, is highlighted with a red box. The browser window shows a page titled "Our Reviews" with a card for Frankie Lan, also highlighted with a red box. The card displays a profile picture, name, job, and review text. The DevTools console on the right shows a warning about a failed source map load and a log of the review object.
